Gum disease, also called periodontal disease, is an infection of the tissues and bone that support your teeth. It occurs when germs infect the gum tissues around the teeth, causing redness, swelling and bleeding.

Current research indicates that problems with your mouth can affect your overall health. Excellent oral health is your body's first line of defense against systemic inflammation. Poor dental and gum health has been linked to a wide range of life-threatening diseases. It is important to detect dental issues early so your mouth and entire body can remain healthy.

At DeSenze Dentistry & Associates, our priority is to deliver quality dental care to informed patients, with an emphasis on prevention, while taking into account your oral and overall health.
